German Forces Surrender to Botha

Successful Military Campaign Brought to a Close.

General Rejoicing at Result.

After suppressing the rebellion against British authority in the Union of South Africa, General Botha took command of the British operations against German Southwest Africa and headed an invasion of that country late in February. His operations have been uniformly successful. In the face of enormous natural difficulties, he completely outgeneraled, outmaneuvered and outwitted the Germans. As a result of these operations all British prisoners in the hands of the Germans have been released, 700 German prisoners have been taken and all attempts at scattered guerilla warfare have been frustrated.

Following the issuance of General Botha's ultimatum, which expired at five o'clock on Thursday evening last, the German forces surrendered unconditionally.

British military experts state that Botha has conducted a very masterly campaign.

German Southwest Africa is located on the west coast of Africa extending from the Orange river to the Cunene river, about 600 miles. It lies between Portuguese West Africa and Cape Colony, extending eastward to the British sphere. The area is 322,450 square miles. The population is 70,556, chiefly Hottentots and bushmen. The European population in 1913 was 14,816, of whom 12,292 were Germans. The military force, including police, is given in the latest reports as 2,992.

Harvest Help

Soldiers now in Camp will be allowed one month leave of absence to take part in harvesting work.

Farmers of this district are urged to consider at once how they will be situated at harvest time. An influx of harvesters from the East cannot be expected this year and all those farmers who need help should make early arrangements for securing same.

According to a dispatch received from Ottawa last week, leave of absence for one month may be granted to non-commissioned officers and men of the expeditionary forces now in Canada, for the purpose of permitting them to take part in harvest operations throughout the Dominion.

This leave of absence will be granted upon the following terms and conditions:

1. The privilege is to be granted only to well conducted and deserving non-commissioned officers' and men.

2. That they should proceed on leave and wear during the period of leave of absence but will be paid on the return of the non-commissioned officer or man concerned to the headquarter of his unit, and upon proof of

Vote "NO" on July 21 And Save Your Independence and Self-Respect

Those who are intoxicated with their own intemperate thoughts ask you to join them

When you vote "NO" on July 21 you administer a well merited rebuke to intolerance, selfishness, and self-seeking; to bitter, intemperate destructionists. They would saddle you with an impractical legislation because it means a meagre, empty and brief success for them. They would deceive you with endless abuse on a subject which is too broad for their rutted mentalities to grasp. They refuse to see the financial burdens which their actions will bring the tax-payers of Alberta if the Liquor Act carries.

Killing No Murder

There can be little doubt that the Holt person who shot Mr. Morgan was insane, and that he acted on his convulsive delirium. The people who assisted him to go insane, however, are Mr. Bryman, the Apostolic peace, and the German Biddler, George Sylvester Viereck and a few thousand other loud talkers of the same class, who are preaching the doctrine that while it is not immoral for Germans to shoot Freemen and Britishers, it is in the highest degree immoral for Americans to sell ammunition to Freemen and Britishers for the purpose of shooting Germans.

So long as the United States remains at peace with Germany there seems to be no way of stopping the promulgation of these foul doctrines, which will probably end in the assassination of some of the best citizens of the United States and the best friends of the world's civilization. In a free Republic the cause of peace is obviously impossible to prevent citizens or strangers from preaching any doctrine that they are foolish enough to believe or corrupt enough to teach for money. This is one of the penalties of an illogical position, and the neutral position of the United States becomes more illogical with every day that the righteous indignation of the vast majority of American citizens against Germany deepens.

The same conclusion applies to the formation of pro-German societies and "Bunds" all over the United States, and especially near the Canadian border—some of which may eventually cause trouble both to this nation and the United States itself. If the United States were at war with Germany, all such activities would instantly become treasonable, and could be suppressed with the full force of the law; where as at the present time it is the easiest thing in the world to give them an appearance of peaceful legitimacy which may cover up all sorts of hostile operations. The Toronto Globe's special despatches from Detroit this week show quite clearly that many Germans in that city frankly regard a raid on Canadian soil as a perfectly legitimate operation so far as Canada and Germany are concerned, and readily forget the fact that their very presence in a neutral country deprives them of all right to take part in beligerent operations. This is merely another characteristic example of that thoroughly German mental process of reaching the desired conclusion by looking only at the favourable premises and being blind to all the unfavourable ones. This attitude of mind will eventually lead to trouble if it is not suppressed. And the only way in which it can be suppressed is by the United States declaring itself on the side of the Allies.

Crops in the district tributary to Oyen are looking fine. While many fields are rather late, all grain appears to be in splendid shape. Reports from Sunnydale district state that Mr. T. Snell and Mr. J. W. Snell, have wheat fields which should give a bumper yield. The grain has headed out evenly and stands 15 inches high. Other fields from the different outlying districts are reported to be in excellent condition. Mr. J. C. Jones has a crop which should equal the best harvested. With favourable weather the crops will be better than average.

"Well, Freddie" said his mother, "did you learn anything new at school?"

"Yes'm," said Freddie.

"What did you learn new?"

"I got on to a new way of getting out o' school for an hour, by snuffing red ink up me nose."

"Yes'm," said Freddie.

"What an intelligent lot of people!" he said to the vergor after the service. "Really, I was delighted!"

"Hess' us, sir," replied that person, "we was all waiting to see you disappear!"

"Disappear?" exclaimed the clergyman. "What do you mean?"

"Well, our old pulpit's got pretty shaky this last month or so, and you're pounds heavier than our own person, sir?"

A gallant named Col met a maiden named Webb. And straightway he sat down beside her: And quickly proposed in a manner so glib, That he caught her as soon as he spider.

We hear that a young lady came to town for groceries some time ago, and after making some calls, drove two or three miles out of town before she realized that she was without the groceries.

Col. Naysmith
Pays Visit to Oyen

Relates Some of His Experiences

Lieut-Col. Naysmith, whose return to Canada was announced in our issue of June 21th, arrived in town last Saturday, from Windsor, Ont. After spending the week-end here as the guest of his brother Mr. J. Naysmith, Sr., he left for Youngstown, on route for Calgary, on Monday morning. The duration of Col. Naysmith's stay in Canada is indefinite; he expects, however, to return Europe in September.

A number of friends spent a quiet hour with the Colonel, on Saturday evening, when they listened with intense interest to some of his experiences, which he spoke of in a quiet and forceful manner.

Muhlbach Items

Mr. and Mrs. Powell of Kindersley district spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Culver. Mrs. Powell is Mrs. Culver's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Deard of Calumet were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fredericksen the other day.

Mr. H. Muhlbach, with a good force of men and teams has been doing good work on the roads in this locality during the past week.

Crops in this locality have the "ear marks" of a bumper yield. Most of the crops are well advanced and in many cases fields are out in head.
